Montaigne, whom the French are obliged to for having taught them to think, gives us a very true and edifying deſcription of the miſeries of the great: "Do fevers, gout, and apoplexies, ſays he, ſpare them any more than us? When old age hangs heavy on a Prince's ſhoulders, can the yeoman of his guards eaſe him of that burden? When he is terrified with the approach of death, can the Gentlemen of his bed-chamber comfort and fortify him? When jealouſly, or any other caprice, fills his brain, can our compliments and ceremonies reſtore him to good humour? The canopy of the bed he lies on, embroidered ever ſo much with gold and pearl, has no virtue againſt the cholic. At the leaſt twitch of the gout, what ſignifies it to be called Sire and Majeſty? Does he loſe it by the remembrance of his palaces and grandeur? If he be angry, can his being a Prince keep him from looking red, or turning pale and grinding his teeth like a madman? The prick of a pin, or the leaſt paſſion of the ſoul, is enough to deprive a man of the pleaſure of being ſole Monarch of the world."

Nature is eaſy to be ſatisfied with regard to the underſtanding, as to the body; in order to render the mind contented and tranquil, it is not neceſſary to poſſeſs great employments, to enjoy vaſt wealth; it is ſufficient for us to love virtue, and to know how to be ſatisfied with a little, becauſe it is but little that we really want. In proportion as we retrench ourſelves, all that heaven grants us beſides is ſuperfluity. The more we wiſh to acquire, the more we want, and the farther we deviate from that happineſs we aim at. What felicity can greatneſs give us, that is not to be met with in a middle ſtate? Whoever knows how to limit himſelf to a moderate fortune, is truly rich. If a man meaſures his neceſſities by nature, he will never be poor; if by opinion he will never be rich. A man need not be a Philoſopher to learn to contemn grandeur, and to know of what little avail riches are to the attainment of true happineſs; he need only examine what ſuch wealth and grandeur amount to in the end; for, in fine, if it be evident to him, that they cannot procure real felicity, but are often pernicious to the owners, he will be convinced that a condition where a man has barely what is neceſſary, is preferable to a ſtate of ſuperfluity. Let us only conſider what advantage Great Men can poſſibly reap from their wealth and grandeur; if their aim be to ſave their riches, or to increaſe them, it gives them a thouſand uneaſineſſes; and, if they deſire to make a good uſe of them, and diſtribute them prudently and according to their own opinion, they ſubject them to infinite cares and moſt vexatious perplexities; nor is their grandeur leſs a burden to them than their wealth. If a King be virtuous, he is unavoidably taken up continually with the government of his ſtate, he is under a neceſſity of being watchful for the happineſs and preſervation of his people, and muſt conſider himſelf as the father of a family obliged to maintain peace and plenty among his children. If a King be not virtuous, he is nevertheleſs obliged to act for the…out of ſtate policy, though not from any love that he … his fear, leſt his neighbour ſhould rob him of part … joys, is enough to give him a thouſand uneaſy … every Sovereign is neceſſarily expoſed by his … cares, from which a private perſon is ex… Fruitleſs to deſire the ſtate of a Sovereign, … capable of rendering us more happy, than … noble and free from ambition, … fear, and looks upon health the … to virtue. … happy, ſo long as he de… what he covets, hin… his poſſeſſes. BOSTON, JULY 16.

We hear the 14th Regiment at Caſtle-William, will embark, in a few Days on board the Tranſports, which are employed to convey them from hence. Their Deſtination is yet a profound Secret, but the general Opinion is that they are bound to the Weſt Indies.

We hear that the 14th Regiment, now at Caſtle-William, where they have been in Dureſs for upwards of two Years, will ſoon embark for the Iſland of Barbados the Place of Rendezvous: It is ſaid St. Croix is the Object aimed at. We are told that a Garriſon of twenty Men will be left at the Caſtle, and, conſidering the great additional Strength of that Fortreſs (ſince the withdrawing the Provincial Troops) conſidering alſo the natural Bravery of the twenty to be left there, and that they have erected a new and ſtout Block-Houſe at the back Part of the Caſtle; we may reſt eaſy though the united Fleets of France and Spain ſhould attack them. N. B. His Majeſty now pays for our Defence with our Money.

JULY 23. Monday laſt in the Forenoon, a Carpenter's Shop improved by Mr. Sumner, near Trinity Church, was diſcovered to be on Fire, and notwithſtanding immediate Aſſiſtance was had to extinguiſh it, was ſoon conſumed, with a great Quantity of Boards and Stuff worked up, therein. Providentially the Wind was at W. otherwiſe, the Church and ſeveral Buildings that were nigh, could not have been preſerved, and the Deſtruction muſt have been great at this dry Seaſon. A large Paſture was to the Leeward of the Shop, ſo that there was no Danger that Way, but at the Diſtance of Long-Lane, the Wind being exceeding high, it is ſaid the Flakes were carried as far as the Houſes there: No other Damage was ſuſtained than the Shop, which to Mr. Sumner, was conſiderable.

Nine Companies of the 14th Regiment, are embarked on board the Tranſports lately arrived from New-York: The other Company does not embark until they are relieved by one of the 64th, daily expected from Halifax.

On the 8th Inſtant, the Governor and Council of this Colony met at Hartford, to conſider the Expediency of continuing the Embargo on Grain, after the 15th of the Month, when it appeared to them that there was a ſufficient Supply in the Colony for the Support of its Inhabitants. They therefore thought proper not to continue the Embargo any longer.

NEW-HAVEN, JULY 17.

Laſt Monday Morning, the Honourable Robert Walker, Eſq; of Stratford, was ſuddenly ſeized with a Fit of the Apoplexy, while at Breakfaſt, and expired in about 15 Minutes, in the 69th Year of his Age. He was one of the Judges of the Superior Court, and a Member of the Council of this Colony.

NEW-YORK, JULY 16.

Sunday laſt his Excellency Governor Tryon, and his Lady, accompanied by his Secretary Colonel Fanning, embarked for Albany.

On Monday Morning about Two o'Clock, after a painful and lingering Illneſs, which he bore with uncommon Patience and Chriſtian Fortitude, departed this Life, the Honourable Colonel Richard Maitland, Deputy Adjutant-General to his Majeſty's Troops in America, in the 48th Year of his Age, univerſally lamented by all his Acquaintance, as an affectionate Friend to Mankind. He was the Fourth Son of the Right Honourable Charles Earl of Lauderdale, Viſcount Maitland, Baron of Thirleſtan, Muſſelburgh and Bolton, by Lady Ann Ogilvie, Daughter of the Right Honourable James Ogilvie, Baron Deſkford, and Earl of Findlater, Viſcount Redhaven, and Earl of Seafield.

He was a Perſon of excellent Qualities, every Way ſuitable to the Nobility of his Birth, and the Rank whereunto he was promoted in the Army. He was polite in his Addreſs, of a ſweet, affable, and benevolent Diſpoſition; without the leaſt Tincture of the Sour and Auſtere, of the Captious and Cenſorious, of the Aſſuming and Overbearing. He was of a frank, open and generous Mind; a Stranger to all Artifice and Diſguiſe; Faithfulneſs and Veracity, Honour and Integrity, Candour and Humanity, were his juſt Characteriſtics; which rendered him amiable and reſpected, by as many as were within the Sphere of his Acquaintance. The Death of a Perſon, poſſeſſed of ſo many ſocial Virtues, may be juſtly lamented as a Public Loſs.

His Remains were depoſited with all the Military Honours due to his Rank, in Trinity Church-Yard, in this City, on Tueſday the 14th Inſtant.

WILMINGTON, (North-Carolina) JULY 29.

A few Days ago a Brig and a Sloop were ſtruck with Lightning off Brunſwick, which ſhattered ſeveral of their Spars, and obliged them both to be new maſted; the People on board happily eſcaped unhurt.

The Brig Nancy, Captain Foalk, being all ready for ſailing, ſprung a Leak, and is now obliged to be unloaded and hove down.

Yeſterday arrived here the North-Carolina Packet, Dyer, and Mr. Bunting's Pilot-Boat, from Philadelphia.

The ſame Day ſailed the Patty, Barker, for Boſton, in which went Paſſengers John Burgwin, Eſq; and Mrs. Parker, of this Place, and Mr. Simpſon, lately from Charles-Town.

AUGUST 12. Yeſterday arrived here the Folly, Capt. Jones, from Jamaica, a miſſing Veſſel. She left Jamaica above Three Months ago, and in the Night run aſhore on the Colleradas, by which Accident ſhe loſt her Keel and Tiller, and was otherwiſe much damaged; with great Difficulty ſhe got into Penſacola, where ſhe was repaired.

We hear by Capt. Jones, that the Indians on the Miſſiſippi have lately murdered ſome white People, and threatens to be very troubleſome there.

His Majeſty's Sloop Tamer, Charles Hay, Eſq; Commander, is returned from a Cruize.

In Conſequence of ſome Inſtructions from his Majeſty, relative to the outlawed Regulators, his Excellency our Governor has ſummoned the Council, the Judges and Attorney-General to meet at Hilliſborough the 20th Inſtant.

Arrived ſince our laſt, a Snow from London, a Schooner from Jamaica, a Brig from New-York, two Schooners and a Ship from Charles-Town.

From the Journals of the Houſe of Burgeſſes of Virginia.

Wedneſday, April 1, 1772.

The Committee reported the following ADDRESS to his Majeſty, viz.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE Your Majeſty's dutiful and loyal Subjects the Burgeſſes of Virginia, now met in General Aſſembly, beg Leave, with all Humility, to approach your Royal Preſence.

THE many Inſtances of your Majeſty's benevolent Intentions, and moſt gracious Diſpoſition to promote the Proſperity and Happineſs of your Subjects in the Colonies, encourage us to look up to the Throne, and implore your Majeſty's paternal Aſſiſtance, in averting a Calamity of a moſt alarming Nature. The Importation of Slaves into the Colonies, from the Coaſt of Africa, hath long been conſidered as a Trade of great Inhumanity, and, under its preſent Encouragement, we have too much Reaſon to fear, will endanger the very Exiſtence of your Majeſty's American Dominions.

WE are ſenſible that ſome of your Majeſty's Subjects, in Great-Britain, may reap Emoluments from this Sort of Traffick, but when we conſider, that it greatly retards the Settlement of the Colonies with more uſeful Inhabitants, and may, in Time, have the moſt deſtructive Influence, we preſume to hope, that the Intereſt of a few will be diſregarded, when placed in Competition with the Security and Happineſs of ſuch Numbers of your Majeſty's dutiful and loyal Subjects.

DEEPLY impreſt with theſe Sentiments, we moſt humbly beſeech your Majeſty to remove all thoſe Reſtraints on your Majeſty's Governors of this Colony, which inhibit their aſſenting to ſuch Laws as might check ſo very pernicious a Commerce.

YOUR Majeſty's ancient Colony and Dominion of Virginia hath, at all Times, and upon every Occaſion, been entirely devoted to your Majeſty's ſacred Perſon, and Government; and we cannot forego this Opportunity, of renewing thoſe Aſſurances of the trueſt Loyalty and warmeſt Affection, which we have ſo often, with the greateſt Sincerity, given to the beſt of Kings, whoſe Wiſdom and Goodneſs we eſteem the ſureſt Pledge of Happineſs to all his People.

RESOLVED, Nemine Contradicente, That the Houſe doth agree with the Committee, in the ſaid Addreſs, to be preſented to his Majeſty.

RESOLVED, That an Addreſs be preſented to his Excellency the Governor, to deſire that he will be pleaſed to tranſmit the Addreſs to his Majeſty, and to ſupport it, in ſuch Manner as he ſhall think moſt likely to promote the deſirable End propoſed.

CHARLES-TOWN, AUGUST 25.

WEDNESDAY laſt put in here in Diſtreſs, being very leaky, the Ship Mary-James, Thomas Darling, Maſter, bound from Jamaica for London, having met with a Gale of Wind off the Matanzas, on the 6th Inſtant.

From Tueſday Evening laſt 'till Yeſterday, we have had here an almoſt conſtant Rain, which, it is feared, will be hurtful to the Crop of Rice and Indico.
